

CELEBRATING THE DIVERSITY OF GEORGIAN BAY

GEORGIAN BAY LAND TRUST
2012 ANNUAL REPORT

"My family and I donated an easement to the Georgian Bay Land Trust in 1999, and it receives a monitoring visit from a staff member every year. As a long-time supporter, it's been really gratifying to see the GBLT grow over the past twenty years into a leader in conservation. Georgian Bay faces mounting and time sensitive environmental pressures. I would urge all who love it to become involved in some way with the GBLT."

A MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR AND CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

MARK CARABETTA
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

PETER COOPER
CHAIRMAN OF THE
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
COGNASHENE

DEAR FRIENDS,

2012 was one of the most successful years on record for the GBLT, with remarkable accomplishments across all of our program areas – Land Protection, Stewardship, Communications, and Fundraising. These accomplishments would not have been possible without the generosity and commitment of our volunteers and financial supporters. In addition, we must applaud the strong leadership of our Board of Directors, and the ongoing sage advice from our Advisors. We enjoy the support of a growing group of people who value the protection and appreciation of this world-renowned area. They all have one thing in common: a love for this unique place, and a desire to see it protected for the enjoyment of future generations.

With over two decades of achievements in preservation behind us, there is much to celebrate. These accomplishments have been significant: the protection of more than 1200 acres of ecologically important land, volunteer steward teams in place for every property, a diverse and community-supported financial foundation, strong partnerships, and a growing communications and education program that engages more people each year.

In 2012, the GBLT added well over $4.3 million in property value to our portfolio of ecologically significant protected lands, an increase of over 23% from 2011. We accomplished this by acquiring over $2.3 million in properties that were donated, and by spending approximately $1 million in funds donated specifically to acquire a significant property, an amount that was matched through our partnerships with the Nature Conservancy of Canada and Environment Canada. Also, our stewardship endowment funds, which ensure that the GBLT's protected properties will be forever looked after, grew by almost 40%, from $0.94 million to over $1.3 million.

As you will see on the pages that follow, this annual report celebrates the diversity of unique flora and fauna on Georgian Bay. As the GBLT's system of nature reserves continues to grow, this remarkable diversity is protected.

We have made remarkable progress, but our work is not done. Over the next decade, development pressures on Georgian Bay will increase and land prices will rise. It is critical that we act now with a sense of urgency to protect the most ecologically important and threatened places on the Bay.

In the year ahead, we have an opportunity to build on our remarkable success of the past two decades and accomplish even more ambitious goals. We have an opportunity to set an example for what land stewardship excellence means and with your support, we are leading the way.

We both want to once again express our deep appreciation to all of you for your incredible support in 2012 and look forward to seeing you out on the Bay during the summer of 2013.

LAND PROTECTION CHAIR
POINTE AU BARIL

THE GBLT ADDED FOUR EXCEPTIONAL properties to its portfolio of reserves in 2012 totalling over 70 acres of permanently protected land. We will be hosting a number of public events on the Bay this summer to celebrate these exciting accomplishments.

The GBLT will continue to work with land owners to bring more properties under protection.

The first acquisition of 2012, was the Hamilton Reserve, a beautiful three-plus acre island in the Norgate area, south of Byng Inlet/Britt and north of the community of Bayfield. The Hamilton Reserve supports five distinct vegetation communities including rock barrens and pockets of shoreline mineral marsh.

In Pointe au Baril, we successfully protected two spectacular properties: Little McCoy Island and St. Davids Island. The 37 acre Little McCoy Island is part of the Mink & McCoy group of outer islands spanning 12-kilometers between West Carling and Pointe au Baril. These isles are an important stopover for migrating birds and support several endangered reptiles.

St. Davids is a beautiful 13.4 acre island at the southwestern end of Shawanaga Inlet, protected through a partnership between the GBLT and the American Friends of Canadian Land Trusts. Its large size affords it both rock barren and coastal meadow marsh vegetation communities, providing habitat for rare reptile species known from the area.

Lastly, we welcomed the permanent protection of the 20 acre MacCallum Reserve, which provides a breakwater to central Go Home Bay. Contained on the island are elevated ponds and sheltered marsh inlets providing habitat for many species of Georgian Bay fauna and flora, and at the north end there is a large and locally rare leatherleaf shrub bog.

Thank you to the GBLT's generous supporters who made all of these accomplishments possible.

Stewardship

JIM COOPER
STEWARDSHIP CHAIR
COGNASHENE

IN 2012 WE COMPLETED ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL

year. We acquired 18 new volunteer stewards joining us in preserving our new and existing properties. We currently have 106 stewards who help monitor properties, report environmental inventories and assessments, educate others about our work and ensure that the Trust is successful in the on-going protection of each of its properties. Many of our stewards are long time volunteers whose dedication is central to our success. We are especially encouraged by the support from a demographic of new stewards who are in their 20's and 30's

"Despite the many pressures facing the Great Lakes, we still have the power and ability to be guardians of our precious Georgian Bay lands."

SANDRA BOECKH, LEAD STEWARD OF LITTLE McCOY

who share an immense passion and enthusiasm for Georgian Bay. An expanded network of volunteer stewards ensures that the GBLT can continue to keep pace with its growth and stay connected to the land and to the people who value the protection and appreciation of this world-renowned area.

The GBLT is looking ahead to cooperating with several research projects. Dr. Pat Chow-Fraser will be directing wetlands research at Oldfield Lake property and will be conducting a census of Blanding's turtles on Sandy Island. Dr. Steve Harris is interested in the proliferation of Georgian Bay lichens and will be sampling Little McCoy and Umbrella Islands. Through continuing research and education, the GBLT is developing a body of knowledge that will make the GBLT known for excellence in stewardship.

The key function of the Stewardship Program is to maintain the properties entrusted to the GBLT in pristine condition. Thanks to our Stewards and staff we are doing this very well.

Communications

OUR CURRENT AND FUTURE PROGRESSION

depends on our ability to engage both individuals and communities in our mission. This past year was a busy one with a variety of special events that helped us achieve success in this respect. The year provided opportunities for people to come together and share experiences and opportunities to be part of the GBLT's work.

Highlights of 2012 included multiple screenings of the award-winning documentary, "Westwind: a vision of Tom Thomson," Chamber music on the rocks with the Georgian Bay quintet, history talks with curator Jamie Hunter, and our enthusiastically attended rock walks in Cognashene and Pointe au Baril with geologist and GBLT Director, Nick Eyles. These events and many others hosted by generous community members contributed to over 600 people attending GBLT events in 2012.

"It is truly our pleasure to have piqued the interest of the Georgian Bay Land Trust to work with the Township on Doors Open Georgian Bay. We are looking forward to many more successful partnerships"

MAYOR LARRY BRAID, TOWNSHIP OF GEORGIAN BAY

Our summer students play a key role in informing our constituents on how they can support GBLT's work in preserving and protecting the natural state of flora and fauna on Georgian Bay. Last year we also introduced a new Visitor's Guide for GBLT properties; a friendly set of guidelines to allow our visitors to leave no trace as they enjoy GBLT properties.

As always, we could not be as effective in our communications without our volunteers. Together, we strive to continue to educate our diverse community members about the delicate nature of the area, and also actively encourage their involvement in its protection.

Fundraising

DAVID DORITTY
ANNUAL FUNDRAISING CHAIR
POINTE AU BARIL

FRED DALLEY
SUSTAINABLE FUNDRAISING CHAIR
WAH WAH TAYSEE

THANKS TO ALL OUR COMMITTED GEORGIAN BAY FRIENDS for continuing to support the GBLT so generously in 2013. We now have two people on the board of directors committed to fundraising. We recognize that alongside our goals of annual giving, a platform of funding the legacy of the GBLT property portfolio is of utmost importance and is being worked on by our committee.

We presently have $1.35 million in endowment funds committed to stewarding our special properties. While this may sound like a substantial amount of money, in today's low interest rate environment we will need to continue to build this fund. With that in mind, we will be rolling out a Legacy Fund to grow our stewardship endowment to fully insure that these properties are looked after for generations to come.

In addition, we want to thank those on Georgian Bay who generously hosted awareness events for us up and down the shore: The Davises, The Brownes, The Sharpes, Norm Playfair, and Doors Open Georgian Bay to name a few. These families and others have greatly helped to raise awareness and funds for the GBLT. Our work would not be possible without the committed support from our corporate sponsors Desmasdons, Napoleon Appliance Corp., Payne Marine, Topper Linen and TD Bank. It is these synergistic partnerships that help the GBLT leverage its success.

The reality of fundraising for the GBLT is more a position of 'friend-raising'. No matter where you reside on the Bay, we all care for it as a family of friends. Many thanks to all who volunteered and to all those that donated. You helped make 2012 a great success!

MacCallum Reserve

Go Home Bay

IN 2012 THE GBLT received a 20-acre donation from the MacCallum family of the north portion of their beautiful Split Rock Island.

Split Rock Island provides the western breakwater for central Go Home Bay, and has mixed forest, rock barren and coastal marsh vegetation communities that provide habitat for several Georgian Bay reptile species at risk. Its detailed shoreline has many interesting pockets and inlets; the island contains picturesque and lively elevated ponds, and an actual leatherleaf shrub bog towards the northern end.

The island's central and outer location made it a layover for loggers at the turn of the last century, and shortly thereafter was used as a fishing camp whose cookhouse was situated right where the MacCallum cottage stands today. More recently (in the mid-1970s), a remote portion of the island was claimed by a group of squatters who actually built and inhabited a tiny crowded bunkhouse - before being evicted. The MacCallums used the reclaimed bunkhouse lumber to build their toolshed.

Dr. James MacCallum, grandfather to Joan, Elizabeth and Hugh, played mentor and host to several Group of Seven painters at what is now the Jackman cottage, just across the bay from Split Rock on West Wind Island. Split Rock is featured in paintings by Tom Thomson, J.E.H. MacDonald and Arthur Lismer. Joan says,

ANDY SWARTMAN'S FISHING CAMP AT SPLIT ROCK, 1901, TAKEN BY C. H. C. WRIGHT

“Succession planning of any cottage is a nightmare, but a big island is worse. To sell it off would have broken our hearts. Donating to the GBLT allowed us to have our cake and eat it too, keeping the cottage and knowing the rest will stay just the same forever. Almost unbelievable.”

ELIZABETH MacCALLUM

“there used to be bits of orange and blue oil paint on a rock on the west side of the island. It looked as though someone had cleaned off a palette there onto the rock, but I have nothing other than imagination to base that on.”

The MacCallums are avid naturalists and have kept a detailed wildlife journal documenting sightings of species from Split Rock over the years. When asked about specific rare species, the MacCallum sisters confirmed recent sightings of the Eastern Massasauga rattlesnake, Eastern foxsnake and a massive Common snapping turtle often seen cruising the shallows on the inland side of the island. They also noted that their mother was often terrorized by a (harmless) Eastern hognose snake which would suddenly appear and perform its hissing “cobra” display when she tried to go swimming. Not being particularly keen on snakes, this would detract somewhat from their mother’s swim experience.

Split Rock Island is well known to the Go Home Bay community and Georgian Bayers at large as a signature local landmark. The GBLT is delighted to have been entrusted with the generous donation of the MacCallum Reserve made possible with the assistance of the Ontario Land Trust Assistance Program, an initiative of the Ontario Land Trust Alliance.

Looking ahead to 2013

- Develop our next five year strategic plan (2013-2017) focussed on best practices for land protection and stewardship to meet our mission of preservation.
- Invite opportunities for scientists to conduct studies on our properties, including inventories of Blanding's turtles and lichen.
- Share scientific studies with the Georgian Bay community, and continue to conduct education and outreach events. This will connect individuals and families to the biodiversity and unique cultural and historic features of Georgian Bay.
- Continue to increase the strength of our network of volunteer stewards and provide training opportunities to ensure our properties are cared for in perpetuity.
- Continue to make sure each GBLT supporter feels valued and receives the recognition they deserve regardless of the size of their commitment.
- Enhance existing partnerships and create new ones with organizations who share an interest in the conservation of Georgian Bay.
- Launch an endowment campaign with current and planned gifts to build our Stewardship Fund.

"Since the inception of the Georgian Bay Land Trust, The Archipelago has been a keen supporter. We applaud your goal to preserve properties for ecological reasons and you have always done so in an exemplary manner."
